

THE PATH OF THE LOTUS FLOWER

Third phase: Art as an act of emerging

ART-NATURE LAB AUGUST 4-9

Art–Nature LAB functions as a study and educational format, structured as a series of lectures and workshops dedicated to theoretical analysis and the acquisition of artistic techniques in relation to nature. The program explores materials, processes, craft practices, and traditions in depth, while integrating critical reflection and experimental work.

It encompasses areas ranging from contemporary art to performative practices.

This year, Art–Nature Lab serves as Phase III of The Path of the Lotus Flower. In this symposium workshop, the work from phases one and two is integrated and further developed in relation to nature.
